

Stephan Bölte is responsible for the DACH business and the Chinese webshop, as well as the supply chain for the entire Chinese business at windeln.de. Before joining windeln.de, Stephan worked in various areas at Amazon for nine years, including consumer electronics and food including baby milk and pet food. At Amazon he launched among others, the Amazon Pantry program in Germany. Prior to Amazon, he spent a year at Kare Design in the supply chain management field, after having successfully completed his business administration studies in Munich. He lives in Munich with his family.